FOUR FARM GROUPS OPPOSE PARITY CFT

WASHINGTON—Far from being willing to accept 100 per cent of parity prices for their products, as recommended by President Roosevelt, the nation's farmers do not think the present basic 110 per cent price ceiling is high enough.

The American Bureau Federation, the National Grange, the National Farmers Union and the United States Live Stock Association declared. They appeared at a special conference called by the Senate Agricultural Committee.

Agricultural Commissions from ten Eastern, Southern and Middle Western States also presented this view, and Senator Thomas of Oklahoma, who presided, said that the conference had "definitely disproved" Secretary Wickard's statement that American farmers support the President's farm price proposals.

"We've got plenty of votes to defeat any attempt to reduce the price limits," added Mr. Thomas.

He explained that the farm block would not make any move "under present conditions" to raise the ceilings because this would be "against the administration."

Farm leaders at the conference were particularly resentful of what Tom Linder, Georgia's agricultural commissioner, called Secretary Wickard's attempt to "stigmatize farmers as gangsters who are trying to collect unreasonable prices from the American public."

O'Neal Solids Keynote

The keynote was sounded in a statement submitted by Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, who contended that because of market fluctuations a 110 per cent maximum was necessary in order to produce a 100 per cent parity average. He insisted that 100 per cent parity ceiling would mean a below-parity average return.

In addition, he said, the government limitation upon acreage would prevent farmers from regaining the purchasing power they had between 1909-14, which is the object of the parity program.

He said that consumer income is at an all-time high so that "there is no

Several speakers, however, admitted that the expression "110 per cent of parity" did not sound very well at a time when the country is being asked to make sacrifices. "Compensatory price" was the phrase preferred by Fred Brinkman, Washington representative of the National Grange.

Senators from farm States, including Mr. Smith, chairman of the Agriculture Committee, and Mr. Shipstead of Minnesota, encouraged the witness.

approach to a dissenting note was sounded by O. F. King, Agricultural Commissioner of Connecticut, who suggested that 110 per cent parity was "horse trading" like the President's suggested $25,000 income limitation.

Mr. King said that Connecticut's poultry and dairy farmers would suffer from increased prices of corn and other feed, and "a certain element" in his state was "worried."

Mr. Shipstead said that taxes, labor and other costs of producing grains are now two and three times what they were in the parity price period.

EGG SHORTAGE IS THREATENED

More Laying Hens Needed To Meet Demand.

By LESLIE M. BLACK

(Extension Lecturer, New Jersey College of Agriculture, Rutgers University)

Keep your pullets and turn them into laying hens as soon as possible.

There is no definite egg shortage now but there may be in the future unless egg production is increased.

People are eating more eggs at home, the army needs lots of eggs, and large quantities are scheduled for shipment overseas.

The government recently asked poultry producers to increase egg production 10,000,000 cases during a 15-month period ending next summer; and they have responded, but late figures indicate the increase will fall short of that figure.

We know that we can produce all the eggs needed in the food-for-defense program. It's just a matter of having plenty of laying hens and taking care of them properly.

Eggs are one of the best foods, and no one should eliminate them from one's diet because of shortage.

On the average, each person in the United States uses 25 dozen eggs a year. This average should be maintained along with supplies for the army and Britain.

A recent United States department of agriculture report shows that about 19 per cent more chicks have been hatched since January 1 than a year ago, but the increase in numbers of young chicks on farms on June 1 was disappointing.

This would indicate that many pullets are being sold as meat along with cockerels for the broiler market.

The egg-laid price ratio is attractive to the poultry producer now and the government has announced that a favorable ratio will be maintained. It looks like this was the year to fill all available poultry houses with well-matured laying pullets.

A special effort should be made to withhold all well-developed pullets from slaughter. The market for poultry meat can be fully supplied from the cockerels out of this year's hatch because prices will be higher if the broiler market is not overstocked.

Curriculum of College Approved By Navy

The curriculum of Cedarville College has been approved under the V-1 Accredited College Program by the U. S. Navy, President W. S. Kilpatrick announced today.

Regularly enrolled full time students in good standing of the Freshman and Sophomore classes are eligible. With a view to further expansion of procurement and training of prospective naval reserve officers, the Secretary of the Navy has approved the enlistment in the naval reserve of young men enrolled in accredited colleges, who after enlistment in the naval reserve, may continue in college at their own expense, and in addition be given naval training in an inactive naval status.

It is required that applicants be unmarried, male citizens of the U. S., not less than 17 and under 20 years of age as of date of enlistment, except that applicants may be enlisted who have reached their 20th birthday not more than 60 days prior to completion of their sophomore year. Juniors and seniors are not eligible.

When a V-1 man completes about one and one-half calendar years of his college work, he takes a general examination prepared by the Navy Department.

The program is now in progress at the college.

Report Farmers Welcome Probe

CANTON, O.—A request for a federal investigation of the wheat quotas referendum conducted May 8, made by Jake W. Staman, chairman of the Ashland County AAA office, will be welcomed "by every farmer in America," Russell T. Kiko, chairman of the Ohio Marketing Producers Association, said here today.

The proposed inquiry was asked by Staman after it was discovered in Ashland county that five more votes were cast in one precinct than there were eligible voters.

"We will demand that the investigation cover all the phases of the election which was a farce, a joke and a fraud," Kiko asserted. "We doubt that the triple A will go through with it, but if they do let them investigate every state where the voting took place. Somebody's face is going to get awfully red," he added.

35,921 Ration Books Issued In County

While 37,581 citizens registered for sugar last week in Greene county only 35,921 received ration books. Those having excess sugar numbered 1,740 but will get books when their supply is exhausted. It is estimated 2,000 residents in the county did not register. Each one given a ration book was entitled to one pound of sugar over a two-week period. The next sugar date will be May 17 to 30, and the third from May 31 to June 13, and the next from June 14 to June 27. Grocers cannot issue sugar without stamps.

Hey, Who Said Straw's Cheap!

WASHINGTON C. E. O.—The highest prices in the history of Federal wheat prices was being paid here for straw with prices up to $4 per ton being offered. Prices in normal times have stayed around $2 to $3 per ton.

Widespread use of the gasoline in recent years is said to be the cause of the high prices. Since farmers had relatively small acreage throughout the country, scarcity of farm labor this summer is apt to cause continued use of gasoline despite the tempting price on straw, it is believed.

GOVERNMENT TO EXPAND WRIGHT FIELD BY 250 ACRES

The government has filed suit in Dayton federal court to condemn and take over 250 acres of farm land that adjoins Wright Field. The acreage is in 17 parcels. Under federal law the owners have no recourse than to consent to the sale or take what the government offers and move. The land lies in both Bath and Beavercreek townships. The government now owns several thousand acres in Wright and Patterson fields, all of which comes off the tax duplicate.

United States casualties, including those killed, wounded, missing or captured, are now past the fifty thousand mark.

Corregidor has fallen. Organized American resistance on the Island of Luzon in the Philippines has been crushed. More than ten thousand soldiers, sailors, marines, war nurses, Filipino scouts and civilians, have been captured. This gallant little band of Freedom's Warriors retreated to the island fortress of Corregidor from the Bataan Peninsula to make a last desperate stand against the enemy. For more than four weeks, undergoing constant bombardment, they were able to hold off Japanese forces numbering nearly two hundred thousand. With food and medical supplies exhausted, with ammunition gone, with but little water available, and with many desperately sick or wounded, they were finally hammered into submission. The defenders of Corregidor have gone down to a heroic and glorious defeat. They will ever be honored by the nation they so well served.

UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LYNN, D. D., of the Board of Christian Education, National Council, American Bible Society, New York, N. Y.

Lesson for May 17

Lesson subject and Scripture text assigned for the week ending May 21, 1945. Lesson subject: The Day of Conflict. Scripture text: Matthew 23:1-12.

TUESDAY: THE DAY OF CONFLICT

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 23:1-12. GOLDEN TEXT—The scribes and Pharisees sit on Moses' seat, but they do not do what they teach. Mark 12:13.

"By what authority doest thou these things?" and who gave thee this authority? Such was the challenge Christ faced when He came into the temple on the last day that He was to be able to teach there. The chief priests and elders (Matt. 21:23) asked it because they knew that they had received their authority with their offices, whether appointive or hereditary.

Jesus held no such position, yet He had just driven the money changers out of what He called "my house." The temple. They challenged Him, and through the long day He answered and also asked them questions. Here we find a rich store of parables, illustrations, unanswerable arguments, as He met the Pharisees, Sadducees, Herodians—all His enemies who, though they hated each other, made common cause against Jesus. The discussion concludes with His facing of the Pharisees with

"The Ultimate Question—'What Think Ye of the Christ?' (23:41-46)."

The crux of the entire matter was right there for them, as it is for us, though in a somewhat different sense. They were looking for the Messiah—the Christ; but their idea of Him was that He would come as their royal leader, to break the yoke of Roman bondage and set them free. They knew He was to be the son of David, but they did not see in their own Scriptures that this one was to be David's greater son (Matt. 12:42); that in the line of David was to come the one whom David "in the spirit" called "Lord" (Ps. 110:1). They knew about Christ, but they did not know Him; and thus they were like many today. They have heard of Him; they may even admire His character and His teachings, but they do not know Him. What do you, reader, of Christ? Christ then states

II. The Final Test—Doing, Not Just Saying (23:1-4).

Having finally closed their mouths (23:46) Jesus proceeded to a solemn indictment of the scribes and Pharisees. First of all He declared that they failed in the final test of life, which is not words but actions.

Notice that He recognized their authority, and their teaching, but in severe condemnation pointed out that they did not live what they professed. That is the criterion by which we shall all be judged. Those who think that because they belong to some church, or subscribe to a creed, or speak a smooth word of testimony, they may then live as they please, will find themselves standing with the scribes and Pharisees on the judgment day. Why keep that kind of company? Such men are capable of

III. The Great Hypocrisy—Fidei Formas As Pity (23:5-9).

They were, oh, so religious! Interpreting literally and mechanically God's command that they keep His law always near them in action (hand) and in thought (mind) (see Deut. 6:5; 10:16), they made showy leather bags and wore them on wrist and forehead as containers of the written Word. They loved the chief seats and the titles of distinction. And all this was done in the name of religion. What hypocrisy! But wait—are we any better? What about the preacher who is not happy unless he is invited into the pulpit? What about those who take or accept the titles which our Lord expressly forbids? What about those in the pew, as much as in the pulpit (and perhaps more), who want to be recognized as "the masters" of the church? To be sure, they do not always wish it to be so crudely put as that, but they do expect to be recognized as such "or else." This too, under the name of Christianity. There indeed is the great hypocrisy! We are thankful that our lesson does not close here. Our Lord next revealed

IV. The Right Attitude—Service Not Recognition (23:10, 11).

He that is mastered of Christ is ready to be the servant of all. To exalt Him is to at once do away with self-praise and self-glory. Pride in position, and the desire to be praised and recognized by men, inevitably lead a man into a pitfall, in which he is humbled. On the other hand, the one who in humility serves the Lord will, to his own surprise, find that God has exalted him. The way up is down.

"Torrey," said a well-known preacher with whom Dr. Torrey was associated in a great conference, "you and I are the most important men in Christian work in this country." Not long afterward God set that man aside. Quite different was the spirit of D. L. Moody, who at the height of his ministry for God would say, "There are better men here behind me on the platform to speak when I am through"—and he really believed it!

Cedarville College Acquires A Farm

Two Hundred Acres of Highly Productive Land Means of Enlarged Self-Help Program

Cedarville College has purchased a 200-acre farm from Edwin Shores by the first title in the enlarged self-help program. Formerly owned by Edwin Shores, a planter, the farm has been divided into two parts. The larger part, 150 acres, is in good, well-drained and highly productive soil. The smaller part, 50 acres, is in poor soil and is being used for pasture. Because of his confidence in the future of Cedarville College and his interest in helping young people to obtain an education, Mr. Shores has sold the farm to the college on very reasonable terms. The college will use the farm for its self-help program, which is designed to give the students practical experience in farming and to provide them with a source of food and other necessities. The farm is located about 10 miles from Cedarville and is accessible by road. It is generally conceded that boys and girls from rural areas have many qualities of leadership. Their early contact with the soil and the creative forces of life has given them unusual success in the fields where leadership is demanded. The farm work program will tend to develop those deep-rooted character and personality traits which are so much in demand in these days. Only by actual experiences with the processes of growth can meaning and worth be made real to the student.
